

The Angel Fund for ALS Research is an independent 501(c) 3 charity located in Wakefield, MA that supports ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease) research at UMass Chan Medical School. The lab is under the direction of world renowned ALS researcher. Dr. Robert H. Brown, Jr.

The Angel Fund is special. We are not a national charity — we are local. We have very low overhead and administrative costs. Our offices are located in the law firm of Nigro Pettipet and Lucas, courtesy of Directors Jan and Eugene Nigro. That means that The Angel Fund has no rent, no utility bills, no high-paid executives. Angel Fund President Rich Kennedy and the board members are not paid.

Why are they so passionate? Because most have lived through the heartbreak of seeing their loved one live with ALS or have lost their battle to this horrific disease. They have made a commitment to support Dr. Brown and his researchers until a cure is found, the goal of our original Angel, Ginny DeVecchio. They have a sense of urgency to find a treatment and cure by supporting the gene silencing therapy. Angel Fund Advisory Board members Mike and Karen Keane are two such supporters. They have supported The Angel Fund's mission to find a cure for ALS for many years.

The Angel Fund support provides Dr. Brown discretionary monies not available to him via other funding avenues and we know how important that is to his research and success.

The Angel Fund may be a smaller charity in comparison to others — but we are mighty — we have donated over $10 million to Dr. Brown over our existence with the help of our supporters.

We are proud to say that on average, research expenditures incurred are 92% of the Angel Fund's total expenditures (the remaining 8% attributable to administrative costs). We are so very fortunate to have so many Angel Fund family members that care so much and help us by hosting events, participating in the events, donating and volunteering. All for our mission — to find a treatment and cure for ALS.

Remember that every donation, large or small, pushes us closer to a cure. Together, we can make hope a reality!

ALS

Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), also commonly known as Lou Gehrig's Disease, is a progressive neurodegenerative disease that causes muscle weakness, paralysis, and eventually respiratory failure. The mind is still intact. There is no cure.

But, we have hope.
